MUHAMMED İZZET DEMİR

COMPUTER ENGINEER

ABOUT ME

I am Muhammed İzzet Demir, I graduated from Gazi University, Department of Computer Engineering and I have been working at Papilon for a year. I am a front-end developer specializing in React.js, TypeScript and related technologies, and I have advanced English language skills. I am experienced in creating dynamic, responsive dashboards, dockerizing projects and uploading them to servers. I am also experienced in backend development, data science and collaborating with cross-functional teams working with the Scrum methodology. You can check out my website for more information about my work.
